

Pozo Jardín de Pulpos (PS4)

Depth: 13 m

Pozo Jardín de Pulpos was mapped on 27 November 2009 by Liza Colucci, Mark Sanders, and Corinne Wong. This pit has nice open, flowstone covered walls. It is a single drop from the bedrock surface. It bells out past the first meter or two. The bottom is mud and rock filled, sloping towards an organic rich bottom. The back of the cave leads to a small flowstone draped room completely covered in formations.
